

DISCHARGE SUMMARY

Name: Alex Rivera MRN: 001-88421 DOB: 1978-04-12

Admit Date: 2026-04-03 Discharge Date: 2026-04-05

CHIEF COMPLAINT

Shortness of breath and wheezing.

HPI

47-year-old with history of asthma presents with 2 days of cough, wheeze, and dyspnea after URI symptoms.

PAST MEDICAL HISTORY

- Asthma
- Seasonal allergic rhinitis

MEDICATIONS ON DISCHARGE

- Albuterol inhaler 90 mcg; 2 puffs inhaled q4-6h PRN wheeze
- Prednisone 40 mg PO daily x 5 days
- Cetirizine 10 mg PO daily

OBSERVATIONS / VITALS

- SpO2 94% on room air
- Peak flow 320 L/min

PROCEDURES

- Nebulized bronchodilator treatment in ED

ASSESSMENT & PLAN

Asthma exacerbation: continue steroid burst and rescue inhaler; follow up with PCP in 1 week.

The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. This sentence is repeated for length matching only.

Policy reminder: Always verify patient identity using two identifiers per standard procedure.

Administrative note: this section contains non-clinical placeholder text for document length control.

Scheduling information: Follow-up appointments may be arranged through the clinic front desk.

Scheduling information: Follow-up appointments may be arranged through the clinic front desk.

Administrative note: this section contains non-clinical placeholder text for document length control.

Policy reminder: Always verify patient identity using two identifiers per standard procedure.

Scheduling information: Follow-up appointments may be arranged through the clinic front desk.

Scheduling information: Follow-up appointments may be arranged through the clinic front desk.

Policy reminder: Always verify patient identity using two identifiers per standard procedure.

Administrative note: this section contains non-clinical placeholder text for document length control.

Policy reminder: Always verify patient identity using two identifiers per standard procedure.

Administrative note: this section contains non-clinical placeholder text for document length control.

Scheduling information: Follow-up appointments may be arranged through the clinic front desk.

The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. This sentence is repeated for length matching only.